Dear, manager

As I was surfing through internet ads, I seemed to stumble across an ad from McDonald's. I have always had a passion for cooking, and that ad gave me hope one earning enough money to go to college.

I have been with a lawn care business for about a year now but that was child's play and I am more mature now I am ready for an actual job. I also will need to fit my job around school, which is very important to me. I think that school is the most important thing to me, and I am also involved in Boy Scouts. A project, and a couple merit badges away from the rank of eagle. I am a very hard worker and I want to make McDonald's very successful.

I would be very happy to speak with you about the position and how much I will help McDonald's. My cell is 903-238-4240. I will be available on weekdays at about 3:30 will be the best time to reach me.

Thanks, in advance, for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Aaron Sorenson
